

Tail Suspension

DESCRIPTION

The Tail Suspension test is available for the measurement of stress in mice and rats. The latency until the animal remains immobile is measured. The Animal Phenotyping Core houses one of these units.

FEATURES & SPECIFICATIONS

Stable metal poles for experimental procedure

Coupled with Any-Maze behavioral tracking software for objective data collection and analysis

Apparatus Dimensions

- 54 x 19 cm

Any-Maze behavioral tracking software

- Version 5.2

PHOTOS

